

Who has to sign the basic license application or license renewal application?

The basic license application must be signed by an owner or officer who is listed on the application. A renewal application may be signed by any employee or agent who has authority from the license holder to renew the license.